

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A method, device, and system for positioning a brush of a wafer cleaning system. In the method, device, and system one or more light sources are positioned to generate one or more light beams across a plane. One or more light detectors are positioned to detect when the light beams are interrupted by the brush as it advances toward the plane.